Trustee James D. Kendall, Moses Lake, resigned from the Board of Trustees in January.

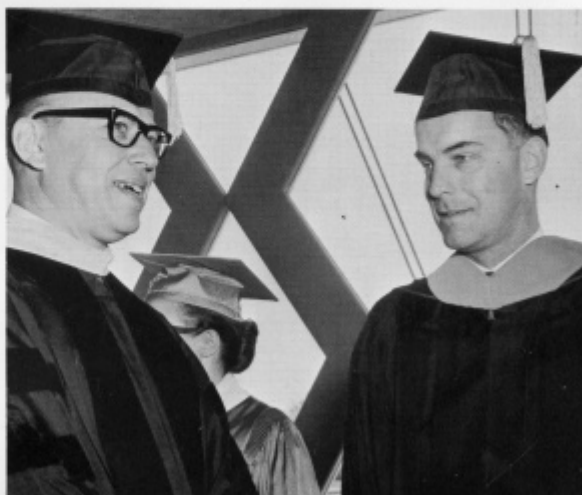

Trustees

Chairman of the Board of Trustees Joseph Panattoni, Ellensburg, left, and Gov. Daniel J. Evans visit with Mrs. Mary Ellen Davis, Kirkland, prior to commencement exercises in Nicholson Pavilion. Gov. Evans gave the principal address at the June 8, 1967 graduation. Diplomas were handed out by members of the Board of Trustees.

President

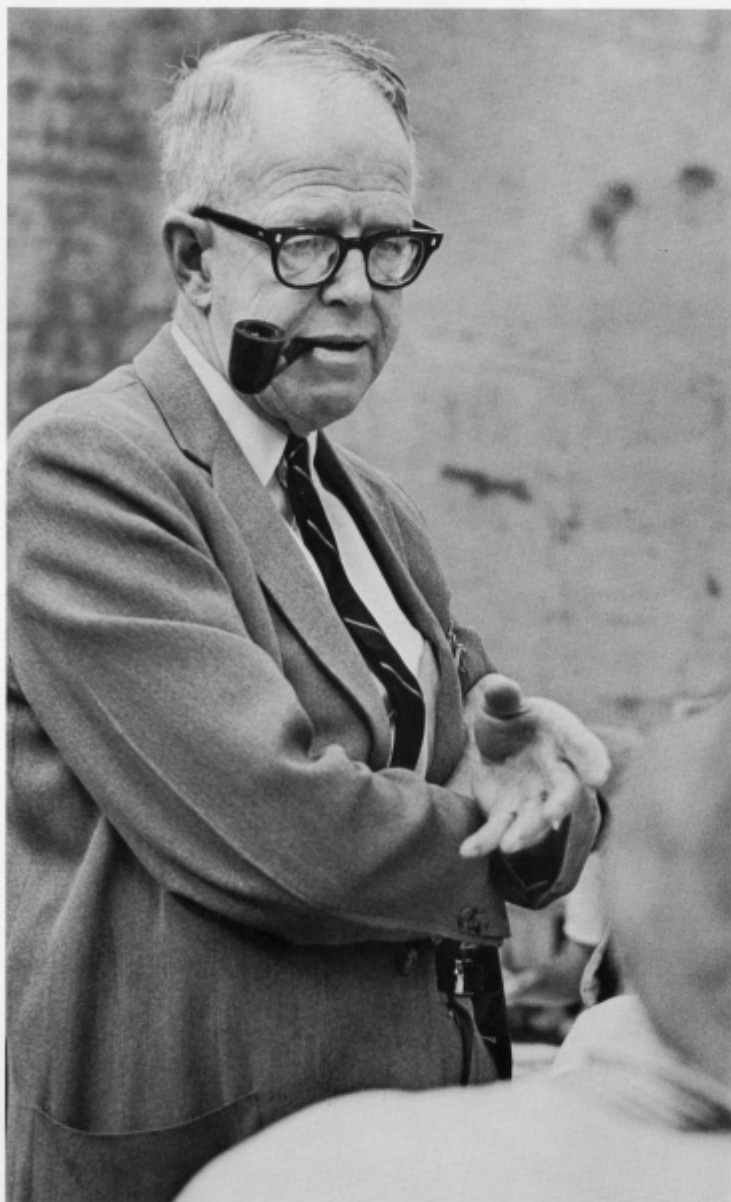

An annual event at the home of Dr. and Mrs. James E. Brooks is the taking of the Christmas greeting photograph. Young Kenneth attempts to tell the photographer he has asked Santa for a fishing pole so he can catch one like dad let get away last summer. Mrs. Brooks, a former elementary teacher, has a way of knowing someone is acting up while her back is turned. Kenneth's brother and sisters are, from left, Marla, Brian, Ronda and Carol.

Kicking off the opening ceremonies of Ellenburg's Centennial Celebration, Dr. Brooks squeezes into second place in a cow milking contest.

Yakima businessman Herbert Frank was named to the Board of Trustees in January, 1968.

Faculty

Counseling freshmen during registration for the new term is an often repeated activity of Central's Dean of Arts and Sciences Donald Frederick Warner. Dr. Warner also holds the title of professor of history and has degrees from the University of Minnesota and the doctorate from Yale University.

Washington Apples and New Mexico Peanuts were the stakes when Central Washington met Eastern New Mexico in the March 1967 NAIA Basketball Championships at Kansas City. Three CWSC faculty members, all formerly at the Portales, N.M. school, were on the receiving end of a peanut windfall when the Wildcats eliminated the Greyhounds. Dividing the loot are, from left: John Elliott Ludtka, director of information and assistant professor of journalism; David Paul Dillard, director of continuing education and Douglas Alan Lang, lecturer in journalism and assistant director of information. Ludtka has degrees from South Dakota State and taught at ENMU before coming to Central in 1963. Dillard and Lang are graduates of ENMU and Dillard has a master's degree from the U. of New Mexico.

After the game and long after fans had filed out of Nicholson Pavilion, Band Director Bert Christianson, associate professor of music, was still trying to sort out his music. Prof. Christianson got wrapped up in the wild finish of the basketball game with visiting SPC and postponed putting his music away. At CWSC since 1947, Christianson has degrees from the U. of North Dakota and the U. of Idaho.

THE FIRST 75 YEARS . . . Historian Dr. Samuel Roop Mohler, professor of history, pauses in front of Barge Hall, first campus building built in 1893-94 and still in use, with copies of his new book, THE FIRST 75 YEARS. Dr. Mohler completed writing the history last year during the college's 75th anniversary. At Central since 1943, Prof. Mohler holds the A. B. degree from Manchester College; the B.D. from Yale U.; the M.A. from the U. of Washington and the Ph.D. from the U. of Chicago.

Anderson Hall

Anderson frosh were kept hopping the first few days of fall quarter by participating in dorm exchanges, a watermelon feed, campus walks, formal initiation, and a second place effort in the Frosh Tug-of-War.

The girls and Stephens, their brother dorm, collaborated on their float for Homecoming Week-end.

Fall quarter ended with a week full of Christmas activities.

During winter quarter, Anderson held a dorm private and a birthday party for girls whose birthdays were in the summer. The finale was the election of new officers and a formal initiation.

The annual square dance private was held at Stu Bledsoe's ranch during spring quarter.

Barto Hall

Barto Hall took pride in its individualistic attitude this year since it had the distinction of being the first and only co-educational dorm on campus. All dorm members are upperclassmen, which accounts for the more reserved atmosphere. The influence of women is evident not only in the laundry room, but in the newly revised constitution as well.

Barto's social activities began with a steak barbeque and progressed to a Halloween party which was termed a huge success. The ROTC blood drive was held in the Barto lounge during October.

Privates included a pajama party during fall quarter, a 3-D formal winter quarter, and an informal picnic and dance in the spring.

Striving to achieve academic excellence, Beck offers to its members one of the largest dormitory libraries on campus. Beck also offers an award each quarter, an ice cream feed, to the person with highest GPA.

Beck sponsored a dance winter quarter with its sister dorm, Hitchcock Hall, and featured dorm privates each quarter. The spring private, a barn dance, was held off-campus.

Beck also has one of the few dorm newspapers, The Beck Bungle, published weekly.

Buttons Apartments

Buttons started its fourth year as a women's residence hall by welcoming many new and familiar faces.

The girls set about planning their annual Faculty Christmas Tea, looking forward to the opportunity to acquaint themselves with some of Central's professors.

Spring quarter was highlighted by an intra-dorm international dinner, where each apartment prepared their favorite foreign dish. Also planned was a buffet dinner at the Thunderbird Restaurant.

Carmody Hall

Carmody Hall, the "small town" of the college community has seen many activities this year. The most well recalled social function was with Kamola to climax the Homecoming events.

Through experience and learning the men of Carmody gained the titles "gentlemen" and "scholars." Their motto is "Be ye male or female, we open our arms to you and to the world."

Courson Hall

An "Evening of Fashion" climaxed freshman orientation at Courson. The frosh designed, created and modeled the latest in paper fashions.

Throughout the year Courson demonstrated unending enthusiasm. This spirit led to the establishment of a dorm library, a weekly speaker program and the continued support of Jimmie G., a mentally retarded boy at Selah.

Switching to the social scene, Courson co-sponsored Prohibition Night with her brother dorm, Muzzall. The girls also sponsored a private formal dance.

A year of new friendships, sleepless nights, gab sessions and unfinished homework ended with an all dorm barbeque.

Davies Hall

Davies' colorfully beanieed frosh began their CWSC careers by taking brisk walks in the early morning. As a result of these early hikes, the girls were able to place in the Frosh Tug-of-War.

Homecoming found Davies paired with Quigley, and their efforts resulted in the creation of a beautiful float. Later in the quarter, the dorm enjoyed a private.

Other activities on the agenda included quarterly scholarship award banquets, a Christmas party and a winter quarter private.

During spring quarter, the dorm held an all-campus rock and roll dance.

Elwood Manor

Elwood Manor kicked off Central's fall social calendar by sponsoring the 7th Annual President's Ball in honor of President and Mrs. Brooks.

Fall quarter left no time for rest at Elwood as they set the pace for Homecoming Sign and Float competition.

Elwood, a co-op, is a smaller dorm and the relationship among the men living there is more personal than that found in a larger dorm. They do their own housework, although they do hire a cook.

The "House," as members call it, participated in a faculty ice cream social, a crab feed, open house and the AWOL Dance this year.

Glyndaue Manor

Since this was Glyndaue Manor's last year in the old white house across from Kennedy, the Women of Glyndaue, or TWOGS, as they are called, participated in house activities with extra enthusiasm and spirit.

The small cooperative living group collaborated with Munro Hall on their Homecoming float this year, and earned honorable mention as a result of their efforts.

The year was highlighted by a masquerade Halloween party with games, apple bobbing, pumpkin carols, and dancing.

Glyndaue balanced their social life with academic pursuits by inviting a faculty member to dinner every week, and hosting a Faculty Tea. Other activities included a Christmas party for the TWOGS and their dates, participation in choral competition, and a Valentine's party.

It was a rewarding year for the closely knit women of Glyndaue, but a sad one too, because it was their last. The women have vowed to keep the Glyndaue spirit going and hope to find another home.

Hitchcock Hall

Hitchcock Hall was honored to have Usha Mahajani from India living in the dorm this year. Several events were held in her honor so Hitchcock girls could learn more about the customs of her country.

Fall quarter, Kennedy and Hitchcock held a retreat at Hidden Valley. Theme of the get-together was "Open Mindedness." Following the retreat, Hitchcock hosted a dance in their lounge.

Beck and Hitchcock sponsored a college mixer the first week-end of winter quarter.

The dorm was proud of their first place awards in the Homecoming float competition and the AFROTC blood drawing.

Hitchcock actively participated in the AWS Tolo Dance, Sweezy Week-end, Parents' Week-end, as well as other all-college activities.

Jennie Moore Hall

This year frosh men escorted Jennie Moore freshmen to breakfast at 6 a.m. during Orientation Week. The frosh advanced to finer things: library tours, serenading and the annual Frosh Tug-of-War. Orientation finally ended with the traditional Kangaroo Court held in cooperation with Whitney.

During Homecoming the girls worked diligently with Whitney on their float. They also participated in intra-mural volleyball.

To begin winter quarter, the girls participated in intra-mural basketball, held a Christmas party and hosted an after-game dance. The dorm also held a winter private.

Throughout the year, the girls enjoyed exchanges, choral competition with Stephens, dorm speakers, hootenannies.

The Ladies of Jennie Moore were delighted by the surprise visit of "a man so merry and quick, they knew in a minute it must be Saint Nick."

Kamola Hall

Kamola, the oldest dorm on campus, offers a homey atmosphere and many traditions to its 256 members.

The dorm selects Girls-of-the-Month and awards an Inspirational Scholarship to a member who has devoted many hours to various dorm functions.

The girls take pride in their expanding dorm library. They also publish a dorm paper, "Ladies Dorm Journal" which keeps the members up-to-date on all the latest news.

Kennedy Hall

Hootenannys in the Kennedy basement from midnight to 1:30 a.m. every Friday night highlighted life at Kennedy Hall. Co-ed football games also seemed to stir up plenty of excitement.

Another activity held for Kennedy men was a week-end retreat with Hitchcock Hall. Work on the Homecoming float helped stir up enthusiasm and received much participation from dorm members.

Meisner enthusiasm was stimulated by their Frosh, who won the Tug-O-War. The lively spirit was continued in the Peanuts theme throughout the year.

Highlighting activities for the year were cooperation with Sparks in planning the homecoming float, participation in Choral Competition, in WAA-intramural sports, and a dorm private.

Discussion on the possibility of sponsoring an underprivileged child in Asia created a warm feeling among the women.

Middleton—a manor where the manner is group participation . . .

Middleton Manor

Middleton Manor took advantage of the independence of "house" living and sponsored some pretty unusual ideas this year. Among these activities were the Common Area Rebellion, Dishpan and Pot Party, and the Orange-Helmet Retreat. Two highlights of the year were Middleton Searches for Reality Day and the Annual Yakima River Float that brought the year to a satisfying close.

Munro men with mascot.

The men of Munro began another successful year when a Munro freshman, Ty Hughes, took first place in the Frosh Talent Show. During Homecoming Munro won an honorable mention in the float competition.

Winter quarter Munro put on its traditional Washington's Birthday Party. A private at Snoqualmie Pass topped the quarter's activities.

Munro put an emphasis on academics by placing high in Central's College Bowl competition.

Munson began a spirited year as they sponsored the annual Sadie Hawkins dance fall quarter. Halloween was also a time for fun as the Munson women went trick-or-treating for UNICEF.

Throughout the year many hootenannies and marshmallow roasts were held in the back lounge. Engagement parties were also held once a quarter to honor recently engaged Munson women.

Munson contributed to Sweezy Week-end by planning the second annual "Mouse's Wiggle."

North Hall

The men of North can look back on a year of varied activities that highlighted their dorm closeness and individual interests.

October 6 dates the night of the North rock and roll dance and lightshow. The Winter Wonderland Semi-Formal and dorm pajama dance were the prominent winter quarter activities.

The year came to a satisfying close spring quarter with the North auction and steak feed.

Quigley Hall

Quigley Hall places stress on participation. The hall's motto "We Try Hardest," is apparent in all campus competitions.

Quigley's angelic float was featured at the homecoming parade. Throughout the year the dorm enjoyed three major privates as well as coordinated weekly speaker programs. The men were active in all intra-mural sports.

A color television and a ping-pong table are featured forms of activity popular in the dorm for study breaks.

Sparks Hall

ROBERT GARRISON
Malott Jr.
President

Sparks Hall started the 1967-68 school year by engaging in traditional freshman orientation activities. Sparks based its program on registration procedures and introducing the men to college life with dinners and dances with various women's residence halls.

With freshman orientation done, the men of Sparks won in the Men's Intramural Association program football and cross-country. To add to these trophies they won the scholastic trophy for the highest GPA fall quarter for men's resident halls.

Sparks received second place in the homecoming float competition and first place in the noise rally. Among Sparks' successful social functions was the campus wide rock n' roll dance with the City Zu.

Stephens Hall

Stephens Hall sponsored numerous privates throughout the year. The first, Possie House, was an evening of fun as the men and their dates went to the Sherriff's Possie House via hay wagons and had a dance. Other privates included a pajama dance and later another private, Roman Holiday. Roman Holiday consisted of a dance preceded by a Roman feast with all the dates in Roman dress. Spring quarter a barn dance was held.

Other activities included participation in making the dorm homecoming sign and other homecoming activities. Stephens was also active in Sweezy Day activities.

Finals week at Sue Lombard means many late nights of constructive cramming.

Sue Lombard Hall

Sue Lombard combined efforts with Elwood Manor on their float for Homecoming Week-end. A Halloween party and participation in later Christmas activities were the highlights of fall quarter. Christmas was a time for tireless practice for Choral Competition and "Pixie Week" in which each girl had her own secret pixie.

A dorm private, a scholarship dinner for those girls on the honor roll, and a tea honoring Mrs. Marie Warner, their housemother, were among the most memorable events of the year.

Whitney Hall

A Christmas dance for Whitney Lovers and their dates brightened the Friday before finals and added some holiday cheer. Other activities enthusiastically carried out were the overnight ski-function on Washington's Birthday, a pajama dance, and a steak feed concluding spring quarter.

Whitney, as a co-sponsor, helped bring a successful Las Vegas Night to Central students.

Wilson Hall

A hayride exchange with North served to break the ice for Wilson Hall on a cold Oct. 27. From then on the girls displayed lots of dorm spirit, including a "Pixie Week" that ended with a Christmas party on Dec. 6.

The new year was initiated on Jan. 20 with a snow-party. Following activities included an Installation Banquet on March 6 and a dorm dance on April 27.

The day ends when the last card is down and the events of the day have been shared with friends.

Academics

A wide-ranging undergraduate program, coupled with a distinguished faculty and up-to-date academic resources, brings unique educational opportunities to the college's student body. CWSC's total academic emphasis is a many-faceted system of educational tools and programs. Established as a normal college for teacher training, the college has expanded that concept with programs leading to Bachelor of Arts in Education degrees, as well as a Master of Education degree for areas of specialized training for teachers and school administrators. CWSC also offers a broad course of study leading to a Bachelor of Arts degree. Moreover, pre-professional work is made available to those pursuing such specialized fields as medicine and law.

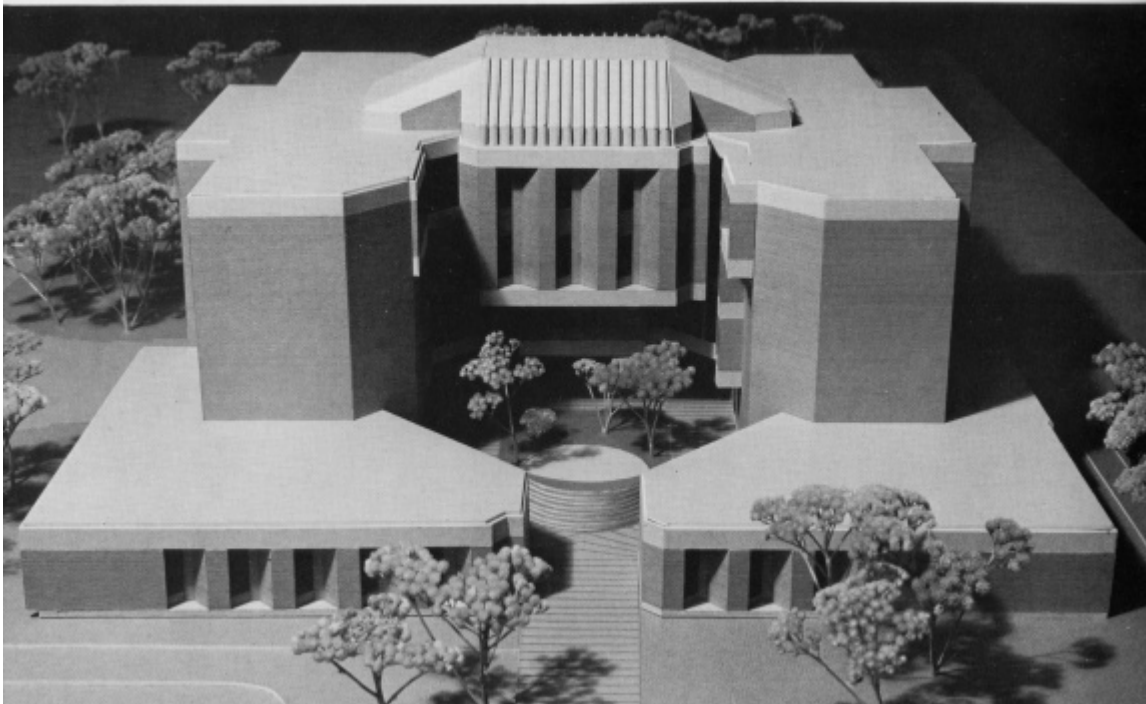

A talented faculty member and an interested student, working together, are the basis of the learning process. The CWSC faculty, drawn from educational institutions throughout the nation, brings to the campus thorough background in hundreds of fields of study. Faculty members also take part in research and work closely with students by serving as advisers and by maintaining personal attention to the academic needs of individual students. Central's programs and requirements are tailored to all serious students and provide special curricula for superior students. Bachelor's degree candidates usually spend part of two years fulfilling general education requirements, then go on to courses to areas of specialization and electives. The honors curriculum offers the superior student a program with maximum academic flexibility.

The Counseling and Testing Center is available to help individual students sort out their needs, interests, capabilities and problems. The center administers various testing programs designed to assist students in resolving the problems of choice of major and career. Testing and counseling also break down barriers to effective study habits and lend aid in handling of personal conflicts.

The Arts and Sciences program provides a broad format of liberal education, centering on the humanities, social sciences and natural sciences. Seventy areas of specialization are open to students in the curriculum. They include 31 majors and 39 minors which prepare graduates for immediate employment or further study in graduate school.

Creative techniques keynote the learning processes in art, music and drama. Students enrolled in the natural sciences area make use of extensive laboratory equipment, as do learners of foreign languages. Arts and sciences education will be further enhanced by completion of a $1.23 million Language and Literature Building (below), scheduled for fall 1969. A new Science Building is almost completed and a Fine and Applied Arts Complex now is under construction.

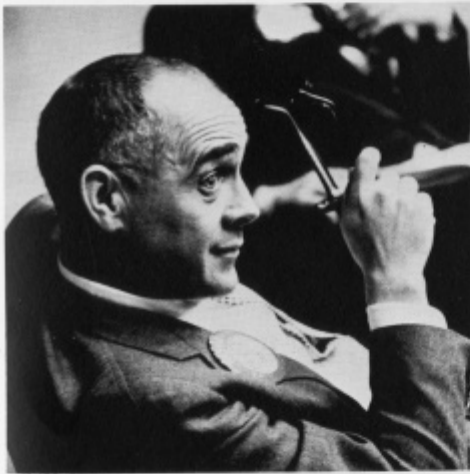

Hebeler Elementary School

Hebeler Elementary School is an educational laboratory where students refine teaching techniques. It includes kindergarten through grade six. Education students observe the goings-on in the classrooms both in person and through a closed circuit television network. The school gives education students wide experience in working with youngsters.

Bruce Johnson, director of public affairs for the Boeing Co., served as moderator for the student-businessmen deliberations.

Students-Businessmen In Panel Discussions

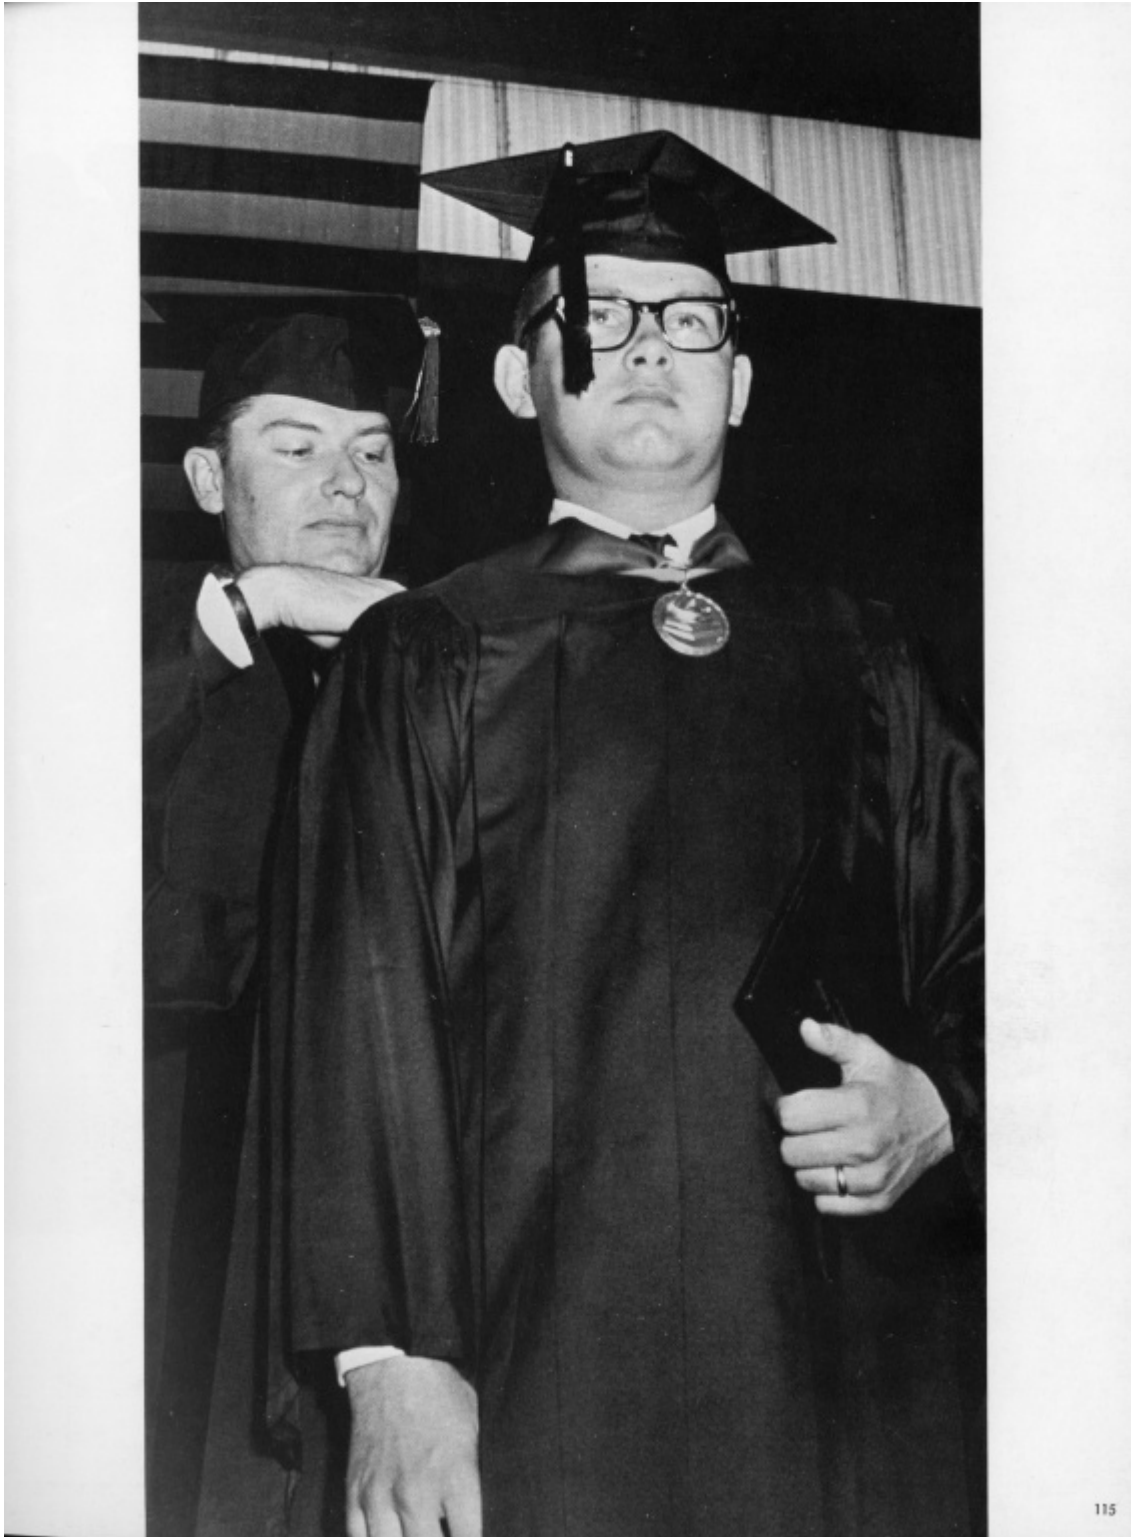

For the second year, students and visiting businessmen teamed up to explore the issues of modern business both in terms of an individual's role within the corporate structure and the function of commerce in American society. The Association of Washington Industries provided a panel of five state businessmen which fielded questions from a standing room only crowd of students and faculty members. The panel members then met individually with small groups of interested students. While contemporary American issues reverberated through Hebel Auditorium, career guidance was a major concern of the students who attended.

Winter Quarter In Mexico

CWSC's academic programs range as far as Mexico, where more than 30 students have spent winter quarter in Mexico City during each of the past two years. Under the program, students enroll as full-time students at the University of the Americas and live with Mexican families. Trips to archeological sites and special lectures on the culture of Mexico are other highlights of this educational adventure. The tour is not limited to art and language majors and all courses are taught in English. The program is arranged each year by Reino Randall, associate professor of art, who accompanies the students.

...Cross Country Team Brings

... Central Washington's on again-off again cross country team managed to be up at the right times this season ... in two important meets, the Central Invitational and the Evergreen Conference championships the Central harriers swept to impressive victories ... but the road was not always paved with gold for the Wildcat thinclads ... in the first meet of the season the Wildcats were held to a tie by a strong Whitworth ... in that meet the Pirates and Centralites were knotted at 29 points each while Whitman trailed with 90, Eastern with 97 and Gonzaga, 135 (low score wins) ... in Seattle the Wildcats pulled a mild coup when they dumped favored Seattle Pacific 25-31 in a dual meet ... that win was impressive because the Falcons had not been beaten in a dual meet since 1963 ... the following Saturday the Central team could manage only a fifth place finish at the Idaho Invitational ... WSU, Montana, Idaho and Whitworth all bested the 'Cats in that meeting ... with defeat still smarting as they ran the following week, Central beat Whitworth and Seattle Pacific again to gain top spot in the college division of the Central Invitational Meet . . . the tide went out for the Central harriers the next meet in Portland . . . running on an unexpectedly hilly course the Wildcats were mauled by the Vikings from the Rose City 15-43 . . . on the upward swing of the pendulum the aroused 'Cats ran away from their conference competition to grab the first Evergreen Conference championship for Central in 1967-68 and the first cross country title ever . . . in that meet Central scored a low 31 points while Whitworth had 38, Western 71 and Eastern 87 . . . good fortune can not last forever, however, and in the NAIA district race the Wildcats were bested by the Pirates of Whitworth 28-62 . . . the primary blame for the district defeat must be chalked up to injuries . . . so invalid were the harriers that only one, Sam Ring, was healthy enough to make the national meet in late November . . .

First Evergreen Championship. . .

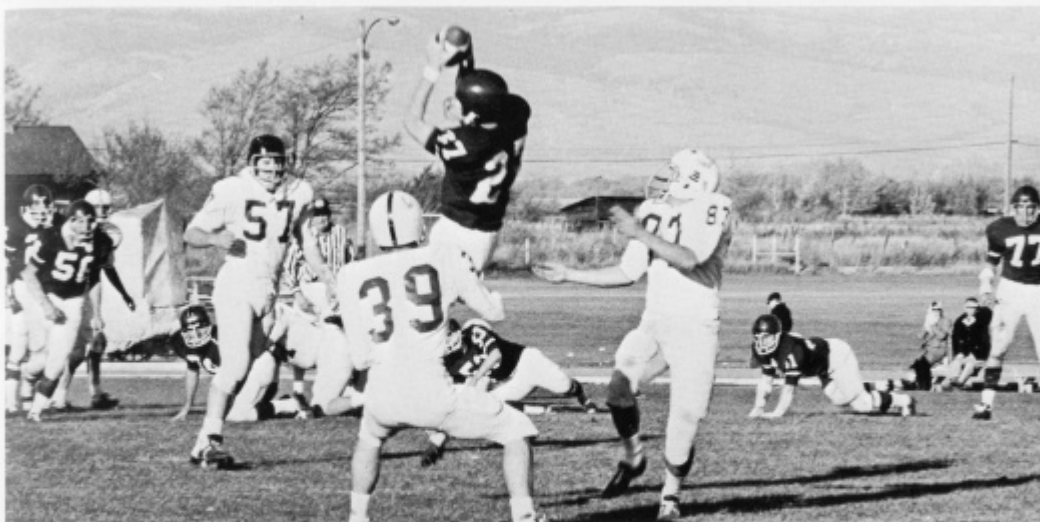

Central Fullback Vince Brown crashes through the Western line to score one of the Wildcats' three touchdowns.

... Central Washington State College football fortunes in 1967 can be described as diverse at best ... in the beginning the Wildcats looked much like the class of the Evergreen Conference ... before students had returned to classes the 'Cats had destroyed Western and Simon Fraser ... but with the return of the students the roof fell in ... but let's take it slowly ... on September 16 the city of Bellingham was rocked as their home town Vikings fell victim to the resurgent Centralites by a 31-0 count ... Butch Hill was named "back of the week" and the Wildcats looked like the "team of the year" ... in the Western game the Central contingent racked up 292 yards with the football ... Steve Hertling previewed things to come with a 90 yard school record punt return ... at home the following weekend, Central piled a 19 point lead on the Clansmen from Simon Fraser ... the defense played an important role stemming Fraser comeback hopes and putting the game on ice 19-14 ...

Dick Johnson makes a circus catch of a Don Wilkins' pass. Defending for Eastern on the play were Fred Emehiser (38) and Jerry Jantz (87). Central players are Dan Collins (77), Frank Steele (41), Brad Riggs (53), Mike Noski (56) and Ron Holness (25). Johnson, noted for his showman catches throughout the season, was Central's second leading receiver.

Squad Starts Fast. . .

Central's Wildcat defense stops Western's senior halfback Al Anderson (with ball). Visible defenders for Central are Jerry Abbot (69), Vince Brown (37), Dennis Esser (31) and Bruce Kirry (64). The Central defense played superlative football much of the season and drew praise from coach Tom Parry on many occasions.

... on September 30 the Wildcats faced the toughest test of their 1967 schedule ... Eastern coach Dave Holmes said he had a great team and he wasn't kidding ... the bowl-bound Savages ran up a 25-8 lead and seemed to have the game wrapped up ... the erratic Central offense had other ideas ... the spirited rally fell short though and the Easterners held on for a 25-21 victory ... their toughest of the season ... following the Eastern letdown the stage was set for another of the unexplainable twists of football ... Whitworth, losers to Western somehow rallied from the doldrums and upset the "down" Wildcats 21-0 ... Coach Tom Parry called the Whitworth game one of his worst ... at this point, one which Parry called most unfortunate, the Wildcats flew over the Pacific to play a very large and very tough University of Hawaii team ... the Wildcats drew first blood against the Rainbows but gave way to their size and speed in the end, 30-7 ... the Hawaii game cost more than a loss ... John McKinstry and Dave Koffman, stalwarts for several seasons, were lost for the remainder of the year due to injuries ...

...Loses Three In A Row...

Butch Hill, senior quarterback, finds a large hole in the Eastern Washington line. Blocking for Hill is halfback Ron Hoiness and the entire Central line. The play carried to the Savages' four yard line and led to a Wildcat field goal.

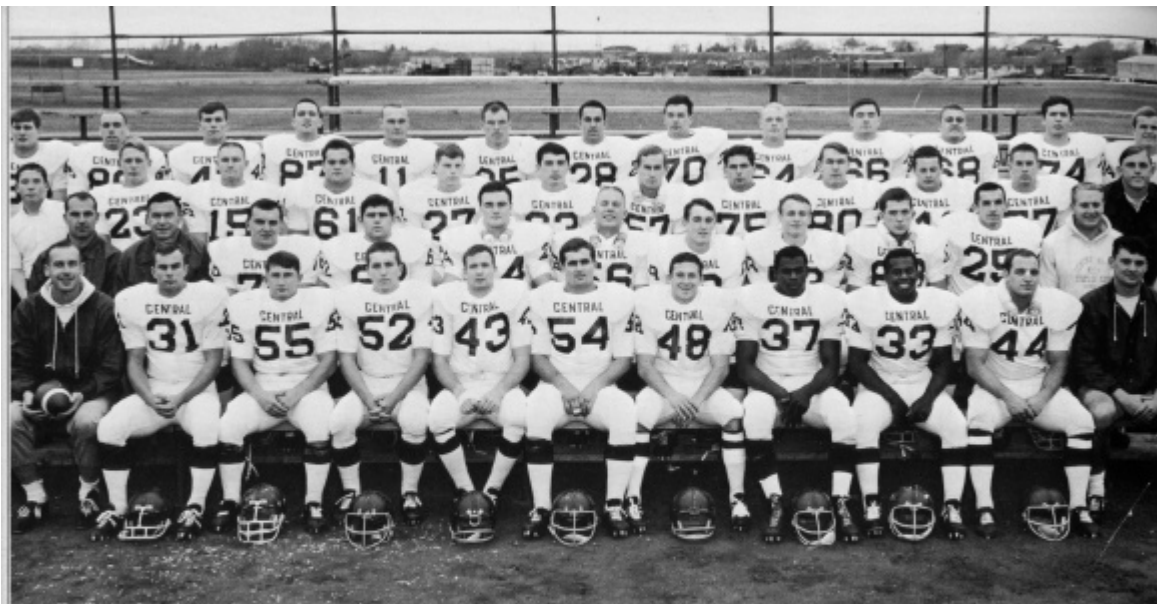

Turning on the speed, Wilkins sprints out of the grasps of his pursuers and heads down field. Still close behind are Nelson, Butts Giraud (77) and Jack Dolan (75). This play carried for 12 yards and a Central first down.

...Knocks Off Whitworth...

... a much improved Western Washington team came to the Central campus on October 31 seeking revenge ... the Vikings almost found it ... much of the first half and most of the second the teams played even football ... Steve Hertling gave the Wildcats an edge in the final period with one of his patented punt returns and the 'Cats hung on for a 20-14 victory ... ominous forebodings loomed in the Central camp as news of their next foe, Portland State came in ... the Vikings downed British Columbia 66-0 the week before ... in Portland the Wildcats did not find things entirely to their liking ... Central beat their opponents everywhere but on the scoreboard and in the end dropped the game 13-6 ... Homecoming was next ... and with it came the challenge of the ever tougher Eastern Washington Savages ... this time the Wildcats played the unbeaten Cheneyites a near-even call game ... Hertling returned a punt 73 yards for a touchdown ... twice the visitors had to fight back from a deficit ... at the final gun, though, the Savages' breaks gave them the game 28-23 ...

...Ends Season A Second In

... November 11 brought a long awaited rematch with the Whitworth Pirates ... the humiliation of the earlier upset had the Wildcats "up" for this one ... the defense took charge early in the contest and never let the adversaries off the hook ... Central's off again-on again offense got the ball across the goal line twice and the Wildcats took revenge on the Pirates 13-0 ... the final contest of the year pitted the Wildcats against a steady and tough University of Puget Sound team ... Central had taken their measure twice during the 1966 campaign and the Loggers were looking for revenge ... Butch Hill managed a 41 yard school record field goal ... but the UPS squad took the game 21-3 ... although coach Tom Parry's troops bettered their record by two victories they were not the flashy team of 1966 ... coach Parry praised his defense and his seniors but hopes for more and better in 1968 when his recruiting program starts to pay off ...

Assistant coaches Gary Fredrick and John Pearson keep an intent eye on the field of play. Both Fredrick and Pearson were instrumental in building the Central team this season and will remain assets to Tom Parry's coaching staff.

... head football coach Tom Parry came to Central Washington last season to build a football team ... in that first season he was named Washington's small college coach of the year ... his team averaged 26 points in their last five outings ... this season the average slipped ... Eastern's bowl-winning Savages took over the spotlight ... the outspoken Washington State graduate could not produce another miracle at Central ... but the fans can wait ... his building program has just begun ...

EvCo With 4 - 6 Mark...

Under looming Nicholson Pavilion, Western's Neil Combelle (67) tries for the Vikings' second point-after-touchdown. Central's Bob McNamee goes all out to block the kick. Others in the Wildcat defensive team are John Craig (47), Jerry Abbot (69) and Craig Christopherson (19). The point was good, but the Vikings still trailed 20-14.

...Field Hockey Team Plays

... in what must be described as a building year, the Central Washington field hockey team ran up a mediocre four win, three loss and one tie season record ... coach Dorothy Purser cited an inexperienced corps of women as the major cause for the "middle-of-the-road" record ... early in the season the Wildkittens looked like the scourge of the Northwest ... in one morning-afternoon encounter they demolished the University of Washington 6-0 and bested Washington State 4-2 ... but fortune didn't smile on the squad in their homecoming engagement with the powerful alumni squad ... by the end of two periods of play the alums had taken the measure of the varsity 2-0 ... gaining new momentum the following week, Central took on the Tri-Cities team at home and dumped them 4-0 ... the season ended on a bitter note for the Centralites ... usually a power in the annual Northwest Conference Meet, the Wildkittens could muster only a one win, two loss and one tie record ... their opening loss was to the University of Victoria 4-2 ... Central was the only team in the tourney to score on the Victorians ... other games were a 4-0 loss to the University of British Columbia, a 1-0 defeat of Marylhurst and a 2-2 tie with Portland State College ...

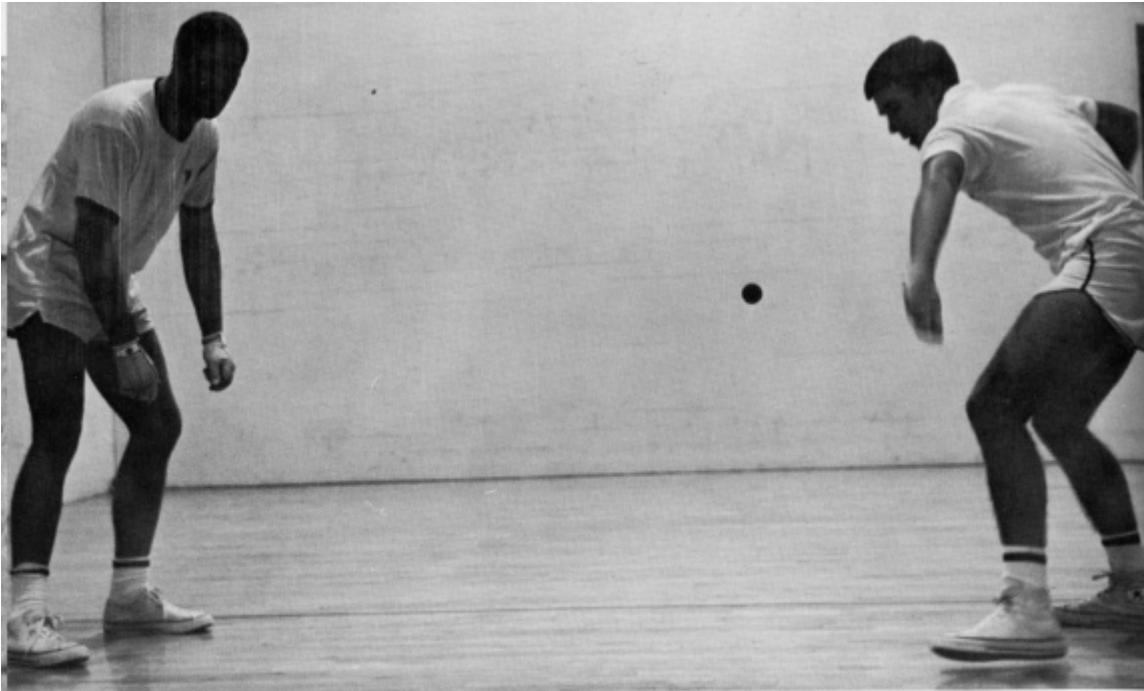

Through Mediocre Season. . .

Dan Homan and Ray Larson here warm up just prior to their final handball match in the MIA tournament. Homan and Larson went through the stiff competition without a loss to capture the all school tournament.

... A sport for everyone, Everyone in a sport ... so reads the creed of the Men's Intramural Association. ... Fall quarter 1967 marked the first time in several years that the MIA has had a full time director. ... Mr. Henry Turik organized and directed the largest MIA program in Central's history ... four football leagues opened intramural competition ... through ten regular season games the Sparks Hall team was unscored on ... in a semi-final contest their goal remained uncrossed ... then in the final game on the 1967 season Sparks ran up against the Swim Team's touch football outfit and though pressed throughout the game won 14-12 ... because of a record number of entries a scheduled one day table tennis tourney was stretched out to several weeks of play ... former singles champion Mark Morrill was eliminated in the early going ... Bob Mauermann, a Beck Hall Sophomore was the man who came through it all to win his first MIA championship ... more than 30 teams joined the competition for the MIA volleyball championship ... four leagues came up with eight teams good enough to play in the championship tourney ... the final was held over until Winter quarter and in that final Beck Hall, which had entered six teams to begin with, came up with its first team champions of the new year ... handball doubles was the final entry on the fall schedule of MIA sports ... again a record number of participants entered the stiff competition ... in the final match Dan Homan and Ray Larson outclassed the rest of the field to take off-campus crown.

Henry Turik, above, took the reigns of the MIA in 1967 as the first full-time director the program had had in many years. Under Turik's leadership the intramural schedule at Central set records for participation in many sports.

M.I.A. Fall, 1967. . .

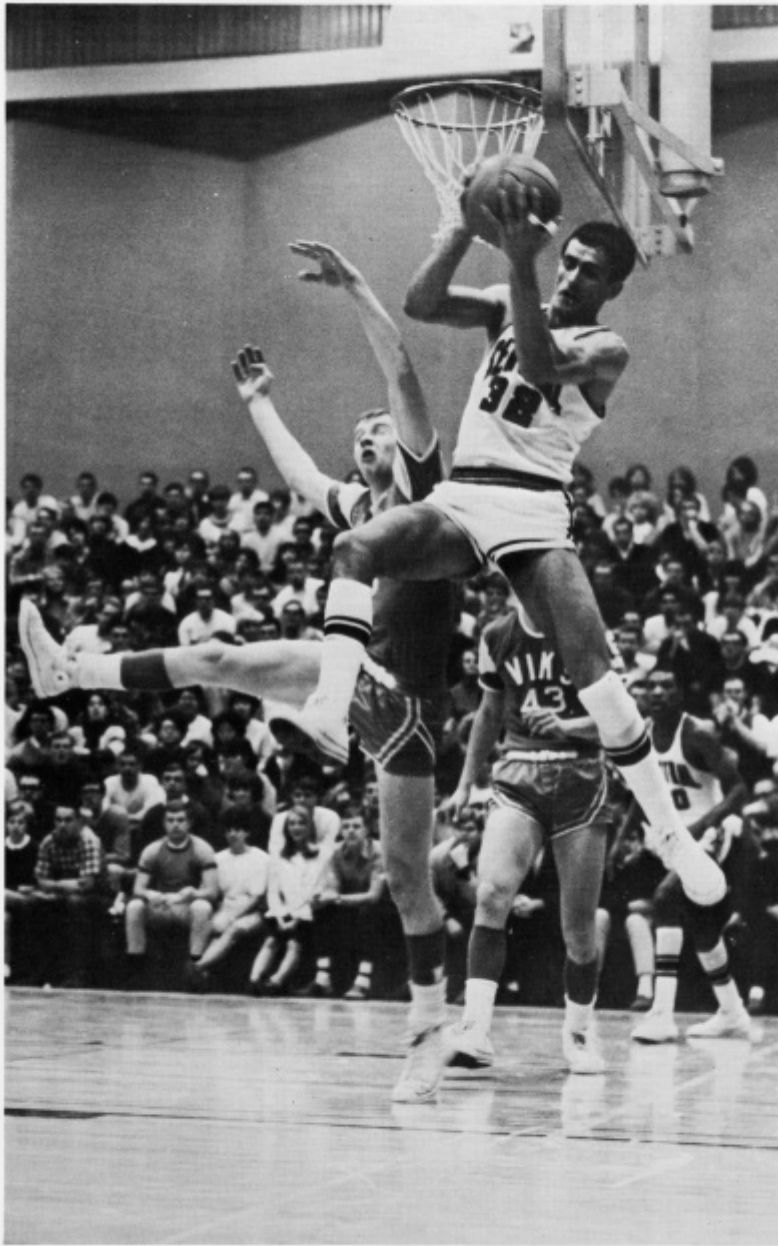

MIA volleyball competition was the stiffest in years as well as the biggest. So many teams entered that the final championship tournament had to be held over until the beginning of Winter quarter. Beck Hall was the eventual winner of the tourney.

... The ardent Central fans have cheered and groaned through three long months of a blustery Ellensburg fall ... the onset of winter sends the populous, fan and athlete alike, into the warm confines of Nicholson Pavilion ... be it on the mat, court or in the pool, the pace never slackens ... an athlete is an athlete whether inside or out ... the fans are likewise at home within the walls of the indoors ...

...Fall Emotion Gives Way...

Dave Benedict, the Wildcats' flashy senior from Yakima, comes up with one of his many rebounds against the Vikings from Western. Benedict's play added greatly to the series win over Western and the subsequent Evergreen Conference championship.

All eyes are on Jim Belmondo as he goes up for a jump ball against an Eastern player. Belmondo, who won the tip, was a consistently top flight player for the Wildcats.

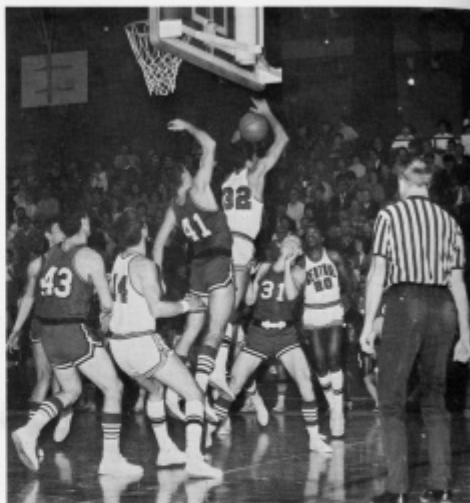

Central Hoopsters Win. . .

Dave Benedict again, this time going up for an easy two points against the Western Vikings.

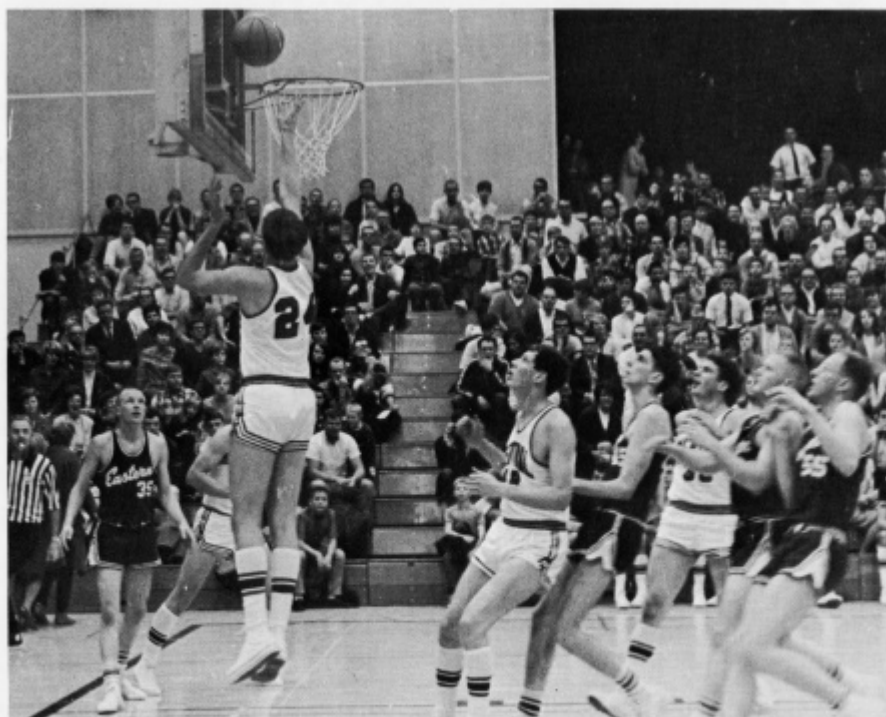

In a season described by Coach Dean Nicholson as "tough all over" the Central Washington basketball team proved itself one of the toughest . . . for the fourth time in as many seasons Nicholson's team won more than 20 games . . . some of these included clutch victories . . . others were expected . . . but all were enjoyed by player and fan alike . . . the season began in Tacoma against an always tough Pacific Lutheran team . . . the Lutes were able to play even ball with the Wildcats most of the way but Central poured it on in the end to win 68-63 . . . PLU played a rematch with Central in Ellensburg the following week . . . on their home floor the 'Cats won big 97-73 . . . independent St. Martin's was next for the Centralites . . . the Saints managed a half time tie with the 'Cats but bench strength paid off for Central and they pulled out a 76-63 win . . . small college NCAA Portland State, primed for its version of a post season playoff, took the 'Cats by surprise in the Rose City . . . fighting hard until the final buzzer Central succumbed 73-68 . . . with three victories under their belts Central ball players went home for Christmas . . . they returned shortly thereafter, however, to compete in the traditional Chico State Invitational Tournament in California . . .

... in Chico the competition was stiff ... the Wildcats beat their first opponent, Whittier, by only seven points 75-68 ... Willamette University was next and the 'Cats handled them easily 81-58 ... an improvement over last season's second place finish seemed highly probable ... but in one of the closest contests of the season Sacramento State beat Central for the crown 89-87 ... back at home lady luck was still not smiling on the Wildcats ... a tough Seattle Pacific club came to Ellensburg and took the measure of the 'Cats 77-68 ... after the SPC game everything looked all Central on the basketball floor ... Alaska came down to play the Wildcats and looked colder than their homeland ... Central triumphed 97-59 and 90-51 ... Eastern provided the first Evergreen Conference competition for the Centralites ... but little competition actually was offered as the Wildcats romped 103-65 and 99-58 ... Whitworth, which had just clipped previously unbeaten Western, was the next Central challenge ... in Spokane the Pirates tried harder but were overcome by Central 91-74 and 72-69 ... these Wildcat victories set up an all-important series with Western in Bellingham ...

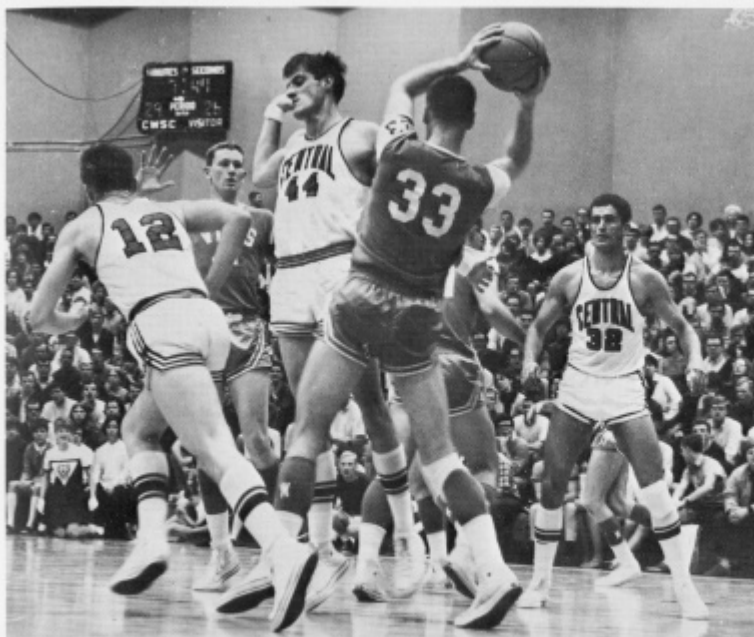

Dave Benedict pulls down another rebound for the Wildcats. This one in one of only two losing conference games against the Pirates of Whitworth.

...EvCo Championship...

Glen Smick, junior forward from Endicott, pumps up one of his patented corner shots in the Wildcats' 99-58 drubbing of Eastern.

With his team leading 29-26 in the early minutes of a crucial game with Western, Stan Puhich concedes a rebound to the Viking's all-district Mike Dahl.

...Playoffs With St. Martins...

Mike Dahl and Western on the defense this time Dave Allen goes up for a short jump shot. Neither Dahl nor Rich Tucker, behind Allen, were able to stop the Yakima sophomore.

... in Bellingham Central and Western, traditional basketball rivals, played to a packed house for two nights ... Coach Chuck Randall had earlier predicted a conference victory for his club and in the first game, which was taken by Western 71-61, it looked like he might get it ... the second night, however, the Nicholson troops came out with a quick "fast break" strategy and beat the Vikings 56-48 to regain their first place spot ... not letting themselves cool off after the Western series Central traveled to Lacey and St. Martin's new gym ... Central became the only team to win on that floor by beating the Saints 99-87 ... back in conference action again the Wildcats faced the strictly "no threat" Eastern Savages in Cheney ... Central won the pair 92-59 and 68-45 ... the 'Cats then faced the Korean Olympic Team and beat them in Yakima 98-81 ... Whitworth came to Ellensburg next to seek some revenge for their last meeting with Central ... they did gain some measure of that revenge by winning on the first night 68-63 ... Central came back, though, and bested the Pirates 84-73 ... the split with Whitworth meant that the weekend series with Western would decide the EvCo championship ... it never proved to be all that close ... Nicholson's fast break tactics broke the Vikings and gave the Wildcats 80-64 and 67-64 wins and the conference crown ...

... nearing the close of the season Portland State downed the 'Cats 85-68 ... moving into the District playoffs against St. Martin's the Wildcats triumphed twice, 77-70 and 82-77 ... on to the nationals for the fourth trip in a row the 'Cats faced the University of Albuquerque ... Central won 95-72 ... in the second go-round the 'Cats upset seventh seeded Elkhorn A & M 85-70 ... finally in the quarter finals the Wildcats lost to another Central, Central State of Ohio 66-47 ... Central of Ohio went on to the tournament crown ... season's end did bring new laurels to Coach Dean Nicholson ... Nicholson holds a 90-26 record as the head of the Wildcats ... his 77.6 per cent gives him the best winning percentage of any of Central's ten coaches through the years ... Nicholson was also elected second vice-president of the NAIA Basketball Coaches Association ... he will automatically assume the group's presidency in 1970-71 ...

Dave Allen, sophomore spark plug for the Wildcat basketballers here drives around an opponent. The determination seen here on Allen's face was apparent whenever the Central team needed a bucket.

Central's Don Lundvall (24) goes high against the opposition in a vain attempt to maintain control of a rebound. The Wildcats went on to lose a heart breaker to the Seattle University Frosh team 90-89.

CWS has, for many years generated spirit in the field of athletics . . . crowds overflowing with emotion carry teams to great heights . . . athletes respond to the cries of excited fans and strive to carry on Central's image and its proud athletic heritage . . . no single group can hope to claim so much a part of the Central spirit as can the Wildcat yell staff . . . weekly, whether on the road or at home they carry the spirit of a proud school . . . cheerleaders Sherrie Stamper, Barbie Aquino, Marla Lowe, Terry Hiller and Art Mabbot . . . songleaders Elaine Hankins, Sue Leverett, Janet Cooper and Terri Bowen . . . with these individuals is the true picture of the Wildcat spirit entrusted . . . and well they help carry on the tradition of the winning ways of the Central teams and student body . . . at home or away . . . it is never all trips and fun for the spirited Centralites, however . . . long hours are devoted to the routines which appear so spontaneous to the sports fan . . . cheers and cheerleading become an art for these keepers of the keys of spirit . . . the pavilion becomes a second home for the nine and until each routine is carefully worked out and remembered none go home . . . and what reward is theirs who try so hard and work so long to help promote our greatness? . . . the roars of the crowd . . . a great win by the team . . . a greater image for the school . . . our school . . . the CWS which has stood so long at the doorstep of greatness . . . of course the teams are there to get excited about . . . but without the yell staff, their work, their patience, we may not have that big edge . . . spirit . . .

1968 Central Wrestling. . .

With referee and closed circuit TV camera keeping an eye on the action, Bob Henderson (top) of Central moves to put his opponent on his back.

1968 Central wrestling began with mixed feelings about the winning promise of the team . . . Coach Eric Beardsley said early that the University of Washington match would tell a lot about the season . . . the "U" did defeat the Wildcats but only they and two other schools did so all season . . . the score of that match was a close 19-13 . . . during the Christmas holidays Central's wrestlers traveled to a Vancouver tournament . . . the only Central wrestler to come away with an individual title was Lamoine Merkley . . . this too told a story about the season . . . Merkley finished the season undefeated, his second unblemished mark, and ran a win string to over 60 matches without so much as a draw . . . After the holidays a third rated Portland State team challenged Central in Ellensburg . . . the Rose City team built up a seemingly insurmountable lead of 15-2 . . . then the Central upper weights took over and the match went to Central 19-15 . . . Seattle Pacific was next for the Wildcats but the Falcons could offer no challenge and the Wildcats romped 27-5 . . . Washington State University came up as a real threat to the 'Cats in their next match but again Central won out 23-14 . . . league competition began in Cheney that same weekend but Eastern really didn't offer much . . . the Wildcats won by their biggest margin of the season 30-3 . . .

... back in Ellensburg once again the Wildcats faced Eastern for the second time ... rising to the lack of challenge Central clobbered the Savages even worse than before, 32-3 ... actually the Eastern match was just a tune up for things to come ... that same week Central faced the University of Washington, the only team to beat them thus far ... the match in Seattle proved even closer than before, the 'Cats wanted it badly, but in the end the Huskies came out on top again 18-13 ... after their disappointment in Seattle and prior to their tough assignment in Oregon Central took three matches in a row ... conference foe Western offered little fight as Central took its measure 23-7 ... a Fort Lewis team, which boasted a fourth place finisher from the 1960 Olympic team, came to Ellensburg but neither the Olympian nor the team could win as Central beat them 25-15 ... then a rematch with Seattle Pacific ... the Falcons were out for revenge and brought a stronger team ... the Centralites were not impressed, however, and they won it 20-11 ... these three victories in a row provided a firm base for the 'Cats as they set for a trip to Oregon and three matches in as many days ...

...Brings League Championship...

ver, 137 (Western); Gary Mogenson, 145; Ron Seibel, 152; Bill Rackley, 160 (all Central); Harry Smith, 167 (Western); Dennis Byrnes, 177; Pat Ehrman, 191; and Dave Coffman, unlimited (all Central).

Rackley again, this time holding Rasmussen on his back under the watchful eyes of the referee. Rackley went on to win this match 10-0 and take the EvCo 160 pound crown.

... during that Oregon trip the tide went out for the Wildcats... Pacific 8 champion Oregon State was first on the list for Central... the Beavers, always strong, came out on top 22-9... a revenge minded Portland State team met the 'Cats next... Central was the only team to beat the Vikings all season and Portland State remembered it... Central took it on the chin in that one 23-11... and finally a road weary Central team went up against the Multnomah Athletic Club, particularly tough this year because of the Olympics... the Wildcats tried just a little bit harder and won a close one 17-16... Central's battle hardened troops were now ready for the EvCo conference meet... word came down that Lamoin Merkley, captain and leader of the team, would not be competing... even without Merkley Central won eight individual titles (see picture last page)... with these eight and Merkley the team sent nine representatives to the national NAIA meet... in that conference meet Central overwhelmed its foes with 112 points... following was Western with 95, Eastern 45 and Whitworth 30...

Swimmers Splash to. . .

Central was the whole story of Northwest small college swimming in 1968 . . . from the beginning of the season, the Central Relays until the Evergreen Conference finals, the Wildcats were never beaten . . . the 'Cat's first encounter was with four other teams in their own pool . . . Central won its own relays event with the score of 129 . . . following were UPS with 112, PLU 83, Western 52, and Eastern 21 . . . from that day on no team seriously pressed the Wildcats . . . dual meet competition began with Eastern and the Wildcats dumped the Savages 81-33 . . . next for the Centralites was a dual meet with the University of British Columbia . . . UBC sank in the wake of the Wildcat mermen 73-40 . . . Portland State and Lewis and Clark invaded the Nicholson pool for a double dual meet . . . again Central splashed away from the competition dumping them 86-25 and 91-19, respectively . . . dual meet competition continued with Pacific Lutheran . . . the Lutes were just no match for the power stroking Wildcats and Central ran away with the meet 89-23 . . . Evergreen Conference competition began for Central in a dual meet with Western . . . the Vikings had threatened with a strong team but again the meet was all Central 60-39 . . .

... following the Western meet Central's mermen began preparing for their greatest challenge of all ... defending Big Sky champion Montana had been edged by Central a year ago and they were out for revenge ... prior to the big meeting the Wildcats had a double dual meet with Gonzaga and Idaho ... Wildcat waves were all the opponents saw as Central ran away with it 72-41 and 79-34 ... the really big meet was then at hand ... the affair featured a triple dual meet with Montana, Eastern and Whitworth ... closest competition, of course, was between Central and the Big Sky champs ... but the Wildcat swimmers prevailed again 63-50 ... Central also triumphed over Eastern 100-13 and Whitworth 95-15 ... dual meet competition again came to the fore and again Western was the opposition ... this time Central widened the gap a little farther in an 89-26 victory ...

... the Wildcats had now won 12 dual meets without a defeat this season and each team they faced was out for an upset ... the Central team was also out for its first undefeated season ... competition stiffened ... Portland State had the first crack at the 'Cats ... but to no avail, Central took the meet easily 84-29 ... the last week of the dual meet season was the most exciting ... the Wildcat tank corps had to face their two toughest tests of the season ... UPS and Oregon State ... the first of the two giants was met in a double dual meet with Gonzaga playing third fiddle ... the 'Cats made it look easy as they dumped the Loggers of UPS 74-39 and Gonzaga 75-38 ... finally the end of the dual meet season was at hand and with it came Oregon State ... the Beavers were bent on ending the Central domination of pool competition ... but the Wildcat corps were just too much and OSU went home without a victory ... the score of that one was 79-34 ... the EvCo conference meet rounded out the season for many of the Central swimmers ... they finished in style ... the final tabulation had it Central 229, Eastern 83, Western 72 and Whitworth 55 ...

Wildkitten basketball in 1968 was different than many of the years past . . . for the first time in recent years the team had to work without the aid of "the" big point getter . . . Coach Dorothy Purser tried to compensate for the loss of shooters by installing a faster more team-like game . . . with their new offense installed the Wildkittens started the season with a bang as they knocked off Yakima Community College 40-16 . . . Coach Purser and her team, on the wings of their early season triumph, traveled to Vancouver, B.C., to take on some of Canada's best in a tournament there. . . . In the first contest of the tourney the Wildkittens ran up against the eventual winner of the whole outing. . . . Purser's troops played well but lost 49-36 . . . their next game went better as they bested Prince George 47-12, their biggest win of the season . . . then the tide went out . . . faced with a strong Seattle Scotties team the Central defense broke down and a weary team gave in 46-19. . . . The next three games in a row were a boost for the Central women. . . . Simon Fraser came to Elensburg to play basketball and went home wishing they had not. . . . Central came out on top of that one 64-24. . . . The University of Washington came next and the Wildkittens took their measure 49-37 . . . their last home encounter found the Central team winning from a strong Kent club 32-30 in a game marked by tough defense . . .

After a satisfying win over the University of Washington, members of the Central Wildkitten basketball team talk with the opposition. Members of that team were: Kathy

Wildkitten Basketball. . .

Central's Wildkittens score again! Cathy Webb (2) and Kathy O'Kelly (29) and an unidentified Central player whoop it up as the ball zips through the cords again. The distressed looks on the University of Washington players' faces reflect the Central winning margin of 49-37.

Joan Arens (11) makes a bucket on a fast break for the Central Wildkitters. The fast break technique of basketball was employed more this season than ever before to make up for the lack of height and big scorers on the team.

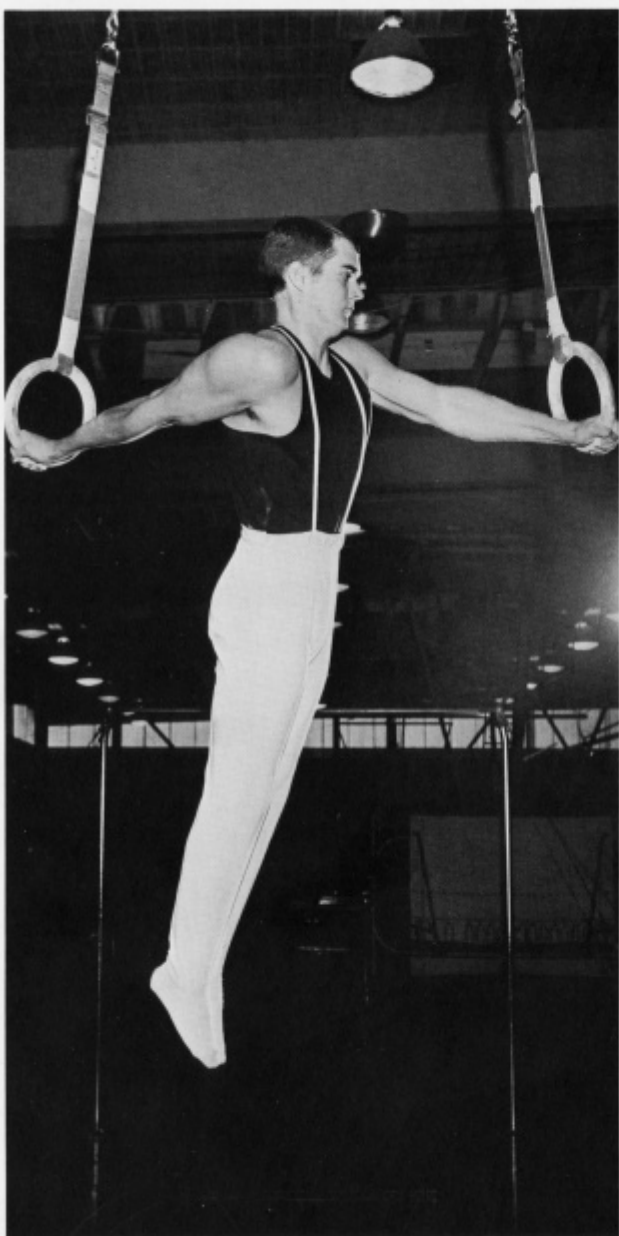

Winter-Spring MIA Continue

... MIA activities continued through winter and spring quarters ... basketball began winter quarter and continued into spring before an MIA championship team was found ... winter also features badminton ... and volleyball ... spring quarter headed off with softball ... other activities included tennis, track and field, swimming and wrestling

... MIA director Henry Turik hoped for a large turnout spring quarter ... many softball teams on and off campus signed up early for the spring softball slate ... individuals prepped for the individual spring sports ... plans were continued to give Central one of the best MIA seasons in years.

Gymnasts

Rick Granstrom, a freshman member of the gymnastics team, demonstrates a difficult variation on the still rings.

Suffer Losing Rookie Season

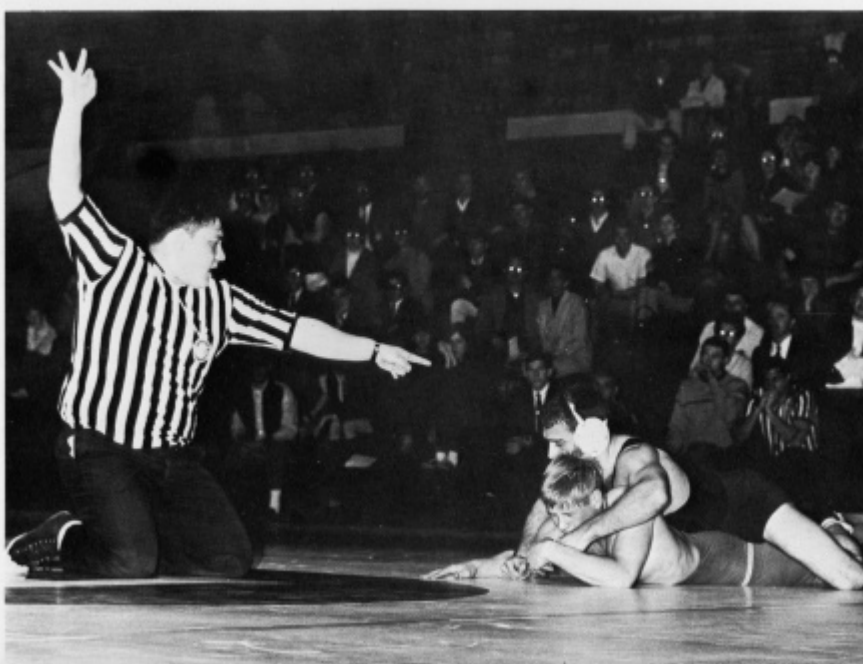

Jerry Brower, a side horse specialist, prepares for a dismount from the horse during one of the many practice hours spent by the team.

In the Winter of 1967-68 gymnastics Coach Curtis Hahn, new to Central, had an almost impossible task . . . working with only a few descendants from the gymnastics "club" of last season, Hahn had to build the first varsity gymnastics team at Central . . . In the beginning it did not look like Hahn could get the team in shape for the first meet against the University of Oregon . . . indeed the Wildcat gymnasts were not ready for their encounter with the Ducks . . . in Ellensburg Oregon took the meet handily 145.65-127.30 . . . at Washington State University the following week things began to look up for Central's gym troops . . . against the Cougars nothing was decided until the final event was over . . . the Cougars took the meet, however, 129.05-128.85 . . . even though they did not win on the scoreboard the WSU meet was a moral victory for the Wildcats . . . Eastern was next for the 'Cats and the strong Savages handed Central another defeat 166.55-140.90 . . . then the strong Huskies from the University of Washington, high finishers in the NCAA meet, took the measure of the Wildcats 173.85-118.01 . . . Eastern knocked off the "down" 'Cats 153.93-126.25 . . . then the Centralites came on to win their only dual meet of the season . . . meeting the University of British Columbia in their own lair Central whipped the Canadians 115.75-106.25 . . . luck did not stay in the Wildcat camp, however, and in the final meet of the season WSU again took a close one from Central 134.88-124.05 . . .

For three sporting months the Ellensburg Winter has held athlete and fan alike indoors . . . in early March this year the sun shone through . . . and sports were again ready to move outside . . .

Trackmen Plan Winning Season

High hopes heralded the beginning of the 1968 track season . . . only five lettermen were missing from the team that took the title last spring . . . more than 20 team members returned . . . returnees included javelin artist Fred Andrew . . . half-miler Jim Boora . . . shot-putter Bob Santo . . . and distance man Mark Henry . . . all of them scored points in last year's NAIA national meet . . . Coach Art Hutton hoped to continue the Wildcat's winning streak . . . the season began with the Wildcat's unbeaten in 20 consecutive dual meets . . . they also could lay claim to the past six Evergreen Conference and NAIA District One titles . . . all indications pointed to another top notch season for the Wildcats.

High jumper Ron Smithwick clears the bar at 6 feet, 1½ inches for a second place jump in a track meet with the Seattle Pacific Falcons.

Bart Barto claims the lead in the third turn of the 880. Barto a consistent plodder took the race and added points to another Wildcat victory.

The Wildcat nine hoped for a successful season under the direction of new head coach, Gary Fredericks. Fredericks became the fourth coach in as many seasons to head the Central diamond men. Fredericks hoped his ten returning lettermen and new talent from community college teams would be a winning combination for this season.

Diamond Prospects Look Sharp

Bill North and first baseman Lee Day returned . . . junior college all-stars Bill Walker from Olympia and Larry Kupp from Yakima added to prospects of a good season . . . a big question considered the 'Cat's pitching staff for the '68 season . . . returning letterman Butch Hill totaled a 1.34 earned run average last season but other pitching staff members were largely inexperienced. . . .

Central entered the '68 season with a largely untested stable of pitchers but predictions for the season still looked good. Early in the season pitchers Butch Hill and Harvey Kochel pitched a back to back twin bill no-hitter.

Sophomore Rob Hippi also contributed an early season no-hitter. Wildcat pitching tended to be erratic though as pitcher Dave Benedict demonstrates in these photos.

7/6 ACTIVITIES

Many activities were planned this year for Central frosh to make their first week at college one of fun and excitement.

Dean Witherspoon greeted students at the All-College Convocation held in Nicholson Pavilion. Highlighting the evening were speeches by College President, James Brooks, and Denny Hamilton, S.G.A. President.

Meisner took first place in the annual Frosh Tug-of-War, women's division, while Muzzall triumphed in the men's category.

A luncheon hosted by the Ellensburg Chamber of Commerce was included in Orientation events.

Ty Hughes captured first place in the frosh Talent Show with his renditions of "Alfie" and "Georgy Girl."

Resident hall initiations, class schedule planning and pre-registration advisement sessions were climaxed by fall quarter registration.

Frosh Retreat

Seventy-five of Central's frosh gathered early in October at Hidden Valley Ranch for the annual Frosh Retreat.

Dean Wise's opening address on the theme, "Open-Mindedness," kicked off the affair and sparked interest for following speeches and small group discussions about Vietnam, religion and drugs.

Fun and games during the weekend activities included skits, hootenannies, a square dance and a marshmallow roast.

Seekers Entertain

From the London Palladium to Nicholson Pavilion came the Seekers. Their wealth of vocal and instrumental talents produced a fresh, unique, and inventive sound which resulted in one of the best-received shows on campus this year. The group from Australia became internationally famous in three short years. Their performance here at Central included songs such as "Turn, Turn, Turn," "A World of Our Own," and "Georgie Girl," all of international popularity.

Karen Raaum, Central co-ed, reigned as Miss Ellensburg for 1967-68.

Miss Ellensburg

The Pastels, The Rotations, The County Fair, The Bards, The Orange Funeral, and The Mercy Six were some of the bands that managed to keep Sweezy couples hopping on the weekends. The rock and roll groups usually performed in the SUB ballroom from nine to midnight. They were sponsored by the different living groups and the various organizations on campus.

Winter quarter was started with a bang as Don and the Goodtimes played. Other groups that played included The Danny Ward Trio, The Gas Co., The Daily Flash, and The Wallflowers.

Campus Dances

The Pair Extraordinaire

The appearance of The Pair Extraordinaire was another of the SGA sponsored big-name entertainments. Marcus Hemphill and Carl Craig accompanied by only a single bass completed The Pair. The range of their performances stemmed from their rendition of "I'm An Old Cowhand," to the more subtle sounds of "Yesterday," and "Angelica." Their repertoire was limited "Only by their own standards of excellence." With their ability to strip music to its basics, their excellent musicianship, and their respect for the music they performed, The Pair was clearly set apart from all other groups.

Travelers Three

One of the few quartet trios in existence, The Travelers Three, visited Central fall quarter. Their act was a combination of folkrock music and comedy.

Performing with the Travelers Three was the Aerial Landscape.

Abners Romp At Sadie's Stomp

The annual Sadie Hawkins Dance, sponsored by Munson Hall, gave every "Sadie" a chance to get her man. Students in hillbilly attire rocked, whooped and hollered to the music of the Statesmen. During intermission, the more aggressive girls hauled their beaus to a quick visit with "Marryin' Sam" while the shy ones had to be content with a balloon relay.

Highlight of the dance was the beard growing contest won by Steve Lloyd, Whitney Hall.

"Three Penny Opera"

The theater season at Central opened with the fall quarter production of Brecht and Weill's "Three Penny Opera." The action of the play, set in Victorian England, centered around the elopement of Polly Peachum and Mac Heath, otherwise known as "Mac the Knife."

The play, directed by Dr. Richard E. Leinaweaver, ran for two consecutive weekends.

Military Ball

Blue and white streamers and the music of the Mellow Tones from McCord Field set the atmosphere for the 17th annual Military Ball. The ball, sponsored by the James Kelly Squadron of the Arnold Air Society and the 895th AFROTC Cadet Squadron, had as its theme, "Silver Wings and Starlight." The highlights of the formal evening affair were the Grand March and the coronation of the 1968 Military Ball Queen.

The Grand March, led by Col. McCarthy, officially marked the beginning of the ball. Following the march, the National Anthem was played. At 10:30 dancing was interrupted as the queen candidates were introduced. Vying for the crown and honor were Mary Ann Olson, sponsored by the senior class ROTC, Linda Pickett, sponsored by the Arnold Air Society, Julie Pomeroy, sponsored by Kelly's Angels, and Barbara Pease, sponsored by the junior class ROTC. Julie Pomeroy of Kelly's Angels and Kamola Hall was crowned 1968 Military Ball Queen.

The Game Room

A pastime common with the male students is the game room in the SUB cage. Various activities are ping-pong, pool, pin ball machines, and juke box. This was one of the "in" spots to be on Friday and Saturday nights.

"Up, Up And Away" For Homecoming

Central whirled "Up, Up and Away" during a Homecoming Week that began with the crowning of Jeanette Graham, Kamola Hall, as Homecoming Queen.

Assisting Queen Jay during Homecoming activities were her princesses, Terri Bowen, Pam Brook, Donna Krause and Kathy Smith.

Friday evening of HC Week, Ray Charles played before a capacity crowd in Nicholson Pavilion. In addition to Charles, The Raelettes and Bill Preston also performed. Following the performance, a rock-and-roll dance was held in Old Commons.

Dormitories prepared floats for participation in the Homecoming Parade. Hitchcock and Kennedy Halls won first prize.

Saturday afternoon at Tomlinson Field, the Wildcats clashed with the Eastern Washington State Savages. Highlighting half-time activities were a special band performance and the introduction of Queen Jeanette and her court.

The Steve Laughery Orchestra provided music for the Homecoming Dance in the SUB Ballroom Saturday evening. Simultaneously, Schultz-Murphy Ltd. played for a less formal dance at Old Commons, while the Collins Coins entertained in the SUB Cage.

Thirty students were named to represent Central in the 1967-68 edition of "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges."

H. Pettus Randall, editor of the annual publication, credited those named as being "superior young college men and women whose records indicate that each one might be an asset to a business, a corporation, a town, a state, or a nation."

The students were nominated by an anonymous committee composed of administrative officers, faculty members, and students on the basis of leadership qualities, academic excellence and participation in extra-curricular activities.

Sweecy Day

Sweezy Weekend 1968, "A Good Time In the Old Town Tonight," offered a variety of activities for Central students.

The highlight of the weekend was a student rodeo that included events such as steer riding, wild cow milking, chariot races, and a greased pig chase. Other events were a greased pole climb, barbecue, pancake feed, bubble gum chewing contest, an exhibition of sky diving, the Dating Game contest, and a Munson Hall sponsored night club act called "The Mouse's Wiggle." Miss Lynn Clifton reigned as Miss Sweezy.

A restful pause during the evening's festivities.

"Moonlight and Mistletoe," a fireplace setting and music by the TGIF Band added serenity to the SUB Ballroom on an early December evening. The annual AWS Christmas Tolo offered Central women a chance to reverse the usual boy-ask-girl routine.

Tolo King and Queen, Loretta Jensen and Chuck Kusak reigned over the festivities.

Philadelphia String Quartet

The Philadelphia String Quartet again enriched Central's music program by a series of concerts presented during the year. The "Quartet in Residence" to colleges and universities in the state of Washington interrupted their residency for a two-month State Department tour of India. This trip included performances in Bombay, Calcutta, and New Delhi. This was preceded by earlier State Department sponsored tours to Europe and South America.

Members of the Philadelphia String Quartet are Velda Reynolds, violin; Irwin Eisenberg, violin; Alan Iglitzen, viola, and Charles Brennand, cello. The services of a quartet of this high calibre is an important milestone in the cultural development of CWSC. Many vitally important values are obtained through coaching, open rehearsals, and general musical interchange with the quartet.

Brass Choir

Central's music department contributed to the Christmas season on December 6 by presenting a special program of music. The 18-piece brass choir conducted by Dr. G. Russell Ross performed a diversified program ranging from "Antiphony No. 2" to the more traditional "Shepherds Rejoice."

Paul Creston, a distinguished visiting professor and widely performed composer, presented a series of lectures at Central fall quarter. Following a pattern inaugurated last year, Creston conducted an advanced seminar and three public lectures in Hertz Auditorium. The topics for the public lectures were "The Language of Music," "A Composer's Creed," and "Music and Mass Media." The seminar was on music composition and theory. During the latter part of the quarter, Central's band, choir, and orchestra performed compositions written by Mr. Creston. Mr. Creston personally conducted the concert.

Creston is self taught in harmony and began to write music at the age of eight. Opus 1 marked the beginning of his prolific and successful career. His career reached a climax with his most successful work, Symphony No. 2.

Open Forum Weekly

The SGA sponsored Curbstone Forum gave CWSC Students an opportunity to hear controversial and well-known speakers. In addition, students were able to interact with the speakers by asking questions and expressing their own ideas.

Many discussions of interest were held in the SUB Cage weekly throughout the school year catering to a wide range of subjects. The hippie movement was discussed by Bill Flynn of Newsweek Magazine and Jack Delay of Helix Magazine. First-hand reports of events in Southeast Asia were reported by Bill Cook also of Newsweek and Sgt. Allan Davidson who holds a Green Beret. Mr. Frank Larkworthy of the Los Angeles Bureau of Drug Abuse spoke on "Non-narcotic Drug Abuse." Problems in the ghettos were explored in depth by Raymon Ware of Seattle. Catherine May, representative from the 4th Congressional District, spoke on "What's Happening in Washington, D.C." Dr. Alfred Grose, from Ellensburg, gave his views on abortion, and Mr. Underwood, the College registrar, familiarized the students with registration procedures. Additional speakers were Larry Abraham and Dan Raish of Seattle who respectively presented their individual views on the John Birch Society and draft resistance.

Bill Cotter, SGA Treasurer

The "Changing of the Guard Banquet" was held soon after the new SGA officers-elect were known. Present at the annual affair were retiring SGA officers and legislators, SGA officers-elect, presidents from each dormitory, and college administrative officials. In accordance with tradition, each retiring officer presented his officer-elect with a souvenir to help him through the coming year.

Delores Hutchens presented incoming SGA Secretary, Kathy McGuire, a ring of keys which do not open any SGA locks and a rubber glove which may come in very handy at those times when a third hand is desperately needed.

Mark McBride gave SGA Executive Vice-President-elect, Mike Fuller, a contract for Pierre Salinger's proposed appearance and a giant-sized bottle of aspirin.

Finally, following tradition, retiring SGA President, Denny Hamilton, presented Austin Cooper with a battle-scarred baseball bat, known as "The Persuader," and a box of No-Doze.

The awards for Legislators of the year were presented to Carol Hunziker and Don Carlton for their interest and activity in SGA affairs.

St. Joan

"Saint Joan," a drama by G. B. Shaw, was presented April 4, 5, 6, 11, 12, and 13 by Central's drama department as their annual Spring production. The play was directed by Dr. Betty Evans.

"Saint Joan" depicts the victory of Joan of Arc in her battle to save France from the English and her martyrdom when accused and convicted of being a heretic by the church. Joan was burned at the stake when she refused to deny that God spoke to her through the voices of saints and directed her life.

Vice 'n' Dice Las Vegas Night At Central

Sherry Aves' fluid ability to "take it off" brought hopes of better times to gamblers down on their luck at the annual Las Vegas Night sponsored by Sue Lombard, Stephens, and Whitney Halls.

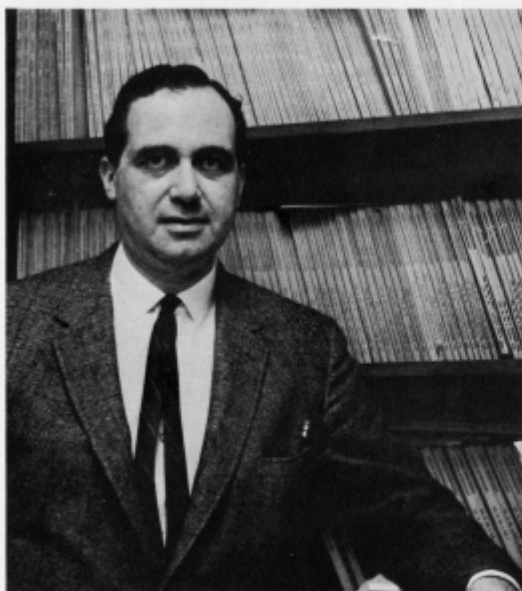

Games commonly played in Las Vegas casinos such as black jack, acey ducey, roulette, and poker lured many students from their studies. Each student received $250 of "real" play money. After a long night of gambling, the tables were shut down and an auction was held. Participants with any money left could bid for numerous prizes.

During a break in the evening's gambling activities, Ty Hughes, a Central student, and a band, The Squires, entertained. Ty sang numbers such as "Ode to Billie Joe," "Summertime," and "What'd I Say." Complementing Ty were floods of go-go girls. For the marriage-minded couples Preacher Erickson performed quickie marriages. For the couples who couldn't make a go of marriage, he obliged them with even quicker divorces.

Symposium: "Language And World Order"

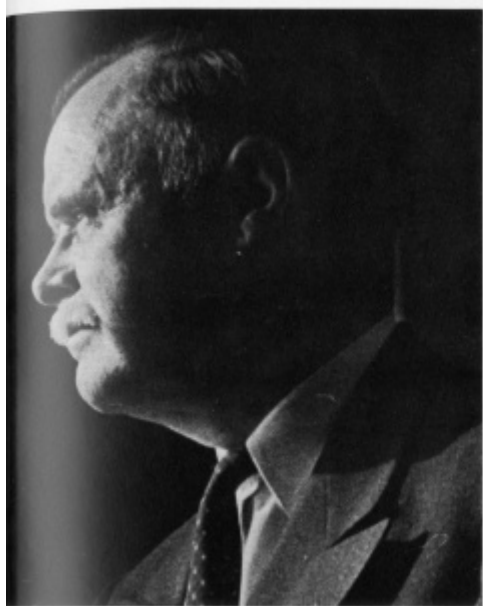

Dr. Marvin Harris

The annual Spring Symposium, April 17-21, explored the topic "Language and World Order."

The Symposium began in 1962 with the inauguration of Dr. James E. Brooks as Central president. The first Symposium examined the role of the college and the next four covered American values in terms of common activities: thinking, worshipping, working, and playing. "Revolution" was discussed last year.

Dr. Oliver L. Reiser, professor emeritus of philosophy, University of Pittsburgh; Dr. Eric Lenneburg, professor of psychology, University of Michigan; Dr. Marvin Harris, professor of anthropology, Columbia University; prize-winning poet Robert Duncan and Pat Weaver, former head of the National Broadcasting Company were guest speakers.

Two of the colloquia were headed by visiting commentators R. Vance Peavey, assistant professor of educational psychology, University of Victoria; and Fred A. Siegler, a member of the University of Washington faculty.

"Beyond The Horizon"

Playwright Eugene O'Neill's, "Beyond the Horizon," was performed six nights winter quarter by Central's drama department. The play was designed and directed by Milo L. Smith, head of the department. In the play O'Neill tried to show the effect upon a man's life when he has lost touch with his dreams, illusions, and aspirations. He proposed the thesis that "success be damned, in the end the very possession of dreams is that which is truly worthwhile."

The story is centered around the Mayo family. Two brothers, Andrew and Robert, fall in love with Ruth—a neighbor girl. Robert marries Ruth and forfeits his dream of seeing the world or "beyond the horizon." Andrew is forced to leave the farm he loves, because his pride does not permit him to stay. When Andrew returns, he finds that Robert and Ruth have morally destroyed one another.

Barry Goldwater

The appearance of former senator and 1964 presidential candidate, Barry Goldwater, highlighted the SGA speaker program during winter quarter. Goldwater's delayed arrival at Central caused Marc McBride, social vice president, concern. However, Marc was later assured by Goldwater that his late arrival was due to the fact that his plane had only one wing—a right wing!

In his announced topic, "A Look at the Decade Ahead," Goldwater expressed his opinions on future developments in the United States. He spoke of the machine age and the leisure-oriented society that present and future generations can expect. Following this speech, Goldwater made himself available to the audience for a general question and answer session. He proved to be very enthusiastic about the questions concerning the war in Viet Nam and the world monetary system. A touch of humor was added when he expressed his opinion of flying saucers.

Prior to his appearance at Nicholson Pavilion, Goldwater attended a dinner held in Sue Lombard. After leaving Central, Goldwater traveled to Bellingham to speak at Western Washington State College.

CHRONOLOGICAL
YEAR

FOR STRAIGHT
ARROWS
ORGANIZATIONS

Marc McBride, Executive Vice President

Student Government Association

The purpose of Central's Student Government Association (SGA) is to represent the student's point of view to the administration and to the Ellensburg community. SGA encourages participation in self government and provides for the development of an individual's capacity for creative thinking, as well as a thorough understanding of the principles of participation in the democratic process.

Jane Wilkins, Receptionist

Dennis Hamilton, President

Tim Wing, Social Vice President

Dolores Hutchens, Secretary

New members of Resident Hall Senate include (L-R): Linda Geir, Howard Brown, Dick Wentz, Frank Fisher, Phil Rakestraw, Sally Keukn, Wayne Green, and Linda Wilson.

Residence Hall Senate

The Residence Hall Senate is the executive tie between campus living groups, the Student Government Association and the college administration.

"The Senate" is composed of all dormitory presidents with an elected chairman, vice chairman, secretary and treasurer.

Its attention is directed toward inter-dorm coordination and all matters relating to student welfare within the living groups.

Subcommittees function in the areas of food service, housing and parking.

The Dean of Men, Dean of Women and Director of Auxiliary Services act as advisors.

Resident Hall Senate members listen to another stimulating speech.

Stan Silvernail, chairman of Resident Hall Senate, dictates to Beverly Mattingly, secretary, as Judy Snyder, treasurer, looks on.

Honor Council

The purpose of Honor Council is to insure the administration of justice in all offenses of the Honor Code concerning Central students. Six students, three men and three women, are elected by the student body to serve a term for one year. Two faculty members are appointed by President Brooks to serve as ex-officio members.

The Honor Council is a recommending body to the Dean of Students, where final disciplinary action is taken.

Hyakem

Late into the night the lights of the Hyakem office burn brightly as the yearbook staff worries about missing pictures, rewritten copy, bills and deadlines. Blood-shot eyes and frenzied looks are not uncommon to Hyakem staff members. No matter what happens, or what disasters strike, the Hyakem is always distributed at the end of the year. True, names are sometimes misspelled and pictures sometimes fuzzy, but the Hyakem staff always creates a yearbook that students and faculty can, indeed, be proud of. A yearbook tries to keep a written and photographic record of the many activities, organizations, special events, sports highlights and people that make a college a college. The Hyakem staff members believe they have accomplished this.
